How to Play Football Squares

a just-for-fun party game for the big game

1. Print the 10x10 grid (100 squares) and write both team names on the Team A and Team B bands.
2. Guests write their names in empty squares. One person can claim several squares.
3. Leave the number row and column blank until every square has a name.
4. Shuffle the Team A cards, draw them one at a time and write them across the top, left to right.
5. Shuffle the Team B cards and write them down the side, top to bottom.
6. At the end of each quarter, take the last digit of each team's total score.
7. Find the Team A digit along the top and the Team B digit down the side. That square wins.

Example

- End of Q1: Team A 10, Team B 7. The last digits are 0 and 7.
- Go to the column under 0 (Team A) and the row beside 7 (Team B).
- The name in that square wins the Q1 prize. A final of Team A 24, Team B 17 means 4 and 7.

Prize split ideas (examples only)

Equal	Bigger finish	Half + final
Q1 25%	Q1 20%	Half 50%
Half 25%	Half 20%	Final 50%
Q3 25%	Q3 20%
Final 25%	Final 40%

House rules to agree on before kickoff

- Overtime points count toward the final score.
- A scoreless quarter wins for the square at 0 and 0.
- If a winning square is empty, the prize rolls over to the next period.
- Prizes are snacks, small treats or bragging rights.

If money is involved, gambling laws vary by place, so check your local rules first.

Playing the 25-square pool?

Each row and column gets 2 digits, so each square wins on 4 of the 100 digit pairs.
